Recent Publications is a compendium of books and articles on cartography and cartographic subjects that is included in almost every issue of The Portolan. It is a resource for anyone interested in the subject matter. Given the dates of original publication, some of the materials cited may or may not be currently available.

The information provided in this document is exactly what is in the most recent issue of The Portolan, number 119.

To search for a name or a topic or a specific issue, type Ctrl-F for a Windows based device (Command-F for an Apple based device) which will open a small window. Then type in your search query.
Recent Publications Compiled by Louis Miller

This is a listing of recent publications (articles and books) about maps, cartography, geography, and related fields.
