Recent Publications is a compendium of books and articles on cartography and cartographic subjects that is included in almost every issue of The Portolan. It is a resource for anyone interested in the subject matter. Given the dates of original publication, some of the materials cited may or may not be currently available.

The information provided in this document starts with the most recent issue of The Portolan and progresses to issue number 101 (in backwards order of publication).

To search for a name or a topic or a specific issue, type Ctrl-F for a Windows based device (Command-F for an Apple based device) which will open a small window. Then type in your search query. For a specific issue, type in the symbol # before the number, and for issues 1—9, insert a zero before the digit. For a specific year, instead of typing in that year, type in a Portolan issue in that year (a more efficient approach). The next page provides a listing of the Portolan issues and their dates of publication.
